REGIONAL ECOLOGY PROJECT A Community Mapping Event

Learn of biodiversity risks and the opportunities to address them. Join community partners to use scaled, local maps to examine, locate and share the natural areas where we, as a community are vulnerable to climate change impacts. Help to locate and discuss future projects that help ecosystems adapt to climate impacts.

Of interest to community organizations, school reps, environmental organizations, faith groups, anyone who is interested in new planting projects.

+ Join us at the St. Johns
